

From: steve skinner
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/7/02 9:06am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement.

The companies that should be facing criticism are Sun and Oracle. Oracle has done everything they can to become a monopoly and since Informix has been bought they no longer face competing with superior technology. Sun is much worst. They are the ultimate hypocrites. They claim JAVA as the open standard and don't give it to standards. Sun also is the group that stopped the OSF initiative for a Unix standard. Why hasn't Oracle been sued as a monopolistic company? Why is Sun allowed to castigate Microsoft for practices that it strives to achieve?